

Our family found ourselves at a decision point for our property on Sebago Lake when it had aged to a point that every time we went there we ended up spending the entire time fixing everything. One choice was to sell it but that was a last resort since it has been in our family for so long. We eventually decided to do a complete renovation. We were, to say the least, very nervous undertaking such a challenging project. The challenges including very strict environmental codes on the lake, and being from out of town. We were put in contact with Carl Chretien and it was an absolute pleasure working with him. His knowledge of the local codes, his recommendations, and level of detail to make sure everything was done correctly were fantastic. He understood completely what must have been going through our minds doing this from another state, and he put us at ease immediately. He listened to what we saw as the end product and kept that in mind during the entire project. Carl took it upon himself to call us daily with updates. He had an approach that made us realize that he sincerely wanted us to be completely happy with the work for years to come. He truly values our long term satisfaction. When you start out looking at blueprints it is difficult to envision the end product. The end product in this case is far beyond a house. It is a beautiful home that Carl provided our family and I cannot say enough about the level of quality and pride that he puts into his work. Our neighbors called us during the construction phase to tell us how great the place looked and that they had stopped to talk with Carl. They all remarked what a great person he is and what a great job he was doing. We were extremely fortunate to find Carl for this project and I would suggest nothing else to anyone but to work with him. In fact, I would be more than happy to speak personally to anyone who is considering working with Carl. I consider Carl and his family more than builders.....they are friends.
